

AICSS shows

All judges for AICSS shows must be on the AICSS judging list. In order to ensure that club shows (both open and champ) are judged by very experienced breed specialists, prospective judges will also have to satisfy the following criteria...

AICSS Breed Champ Show

Judges from Ireland

- As well as being on the AICSS Championship judging list - prospective judges must have judged in Ireland at Group level. (Pastoral group at Champ show level)
- He/she must also have owned and campaigned two champions in the breed

Judges from outside Ireland

- Must be on the AICSS Championship judging list

AICSS Breed Open Show

Judges from Ireland

- As well as being on the AICSS Championship judging list - prospective judges must have judged in Ireland at Group level. (Pastoral group at Champ show level)
- He/she must also have owned and campaigned two champions in the breed

Judges from outside Ireland

- Must be on the AICSS Championship judging list

AICSS Special Open Shows/Matches etc

The aim of this type of show is to promote progressing judges - especially those who are members of the All Ireland Collie & Sheepdog Society. Committee members will propose prospective judges at a committee meeting. The draw will be made by secret ballot and two thirds of the committee present at the meeting must agree on the final selection.

Club Policy

A person who has judged any AICSS club show will not be eligible to judge another AICSS club show for five years.
